Dr Younke Goh

Medical practitioner at
Medical Aesthetics @ Cluny

She might look youthful but Dr Goh has been a well-respected medical practitioner with a special interest in aesthetics for years. Having trained under internationally-renowned dermatologists and plastic surgeons, she incorporates the best of their techniques into her own treatment protocols. As a firm advocate of the non-invasive approach, Dr Goh stresses prevention as the best way to achieve a blemish-free complexion. "Technology might make it possible to solve skin woes but it's best to address skin problems early when they can be corrected with non-invasive aesthetic treatments," Dr Goh advises.
